Our Products and Process Overview

We control the process, from harvest, to the finished product. After harvesting in Fiji, we air-transport to our FDA certified extraction/production facilities in the USA for absolute freshness. We publish certificates of analysis (COA) for each harvest and subsequent extract, to provide traceability, and these documents are easily available on our website. Our kava products are the freshest possible, and our kavalactone levels are exactly as stated, allowing the kava user to determine precisely the usage they need. Kava supports social communication, rest, calmness, relaxation and quality sleep.
